THE ASSERTED CLAIMS ARE DIRECTED TO ELIGIBLE SUBJECT MATTER

14. The '070 Patent, the '410 Patent, and the '510 Patent (collectively, “the Patents-in-Suit”) issued after a full and fair examination by the USPTO.

15. The Patents-in-Suit are, and are legally presumed to be, valid, enforceable and directed to patent-eligible subject matter.

16. The '410 Patent was issue more than four years after the Supreme Court’s decision in Alice v. CLS Bank Int’l, 573 U.S. 208 (2014).

17. The USPTO has put in place guidance for examiners to evaluate eligibility considerations. The USPTO, applying those considerations, issued the '410 (and has since issued two other related patents, U.S. Patent No. 10,453,151 (which issued on October 22, 2019) and U.S. Patent No. 11,004,158 (which issued on May 11, 2021).

18. The USPTO's reasons for determining that the '151 Patent (and subsequent related patents) is directed to eligible subject matter apply to the other Patents-in-Suit.

19. The asserted claims of the Patents-in-Suit are directed to technological improvements in computer and scanning technology. For example, the asserted claims provide for scanning a document that has no predefined format.

20. The Patents-in-Suit assert that this and other features of the claimed inventions are directly relevant to technological improvements in computer and scanning technology. See, e.g., '410 patent at 1:7-12; 1:18-33; 1:42-51; 2:33-37; and 4:33-54.

21. This is also reflected in the prosecution history for this patent family. For example, the '510 Patent was allowed based on the Board of Patent Appeals and Interference's decision that the art of record did not disclose processing receipts having no predefined format.

22. The foregoing facts establish that the inventions recited in the asserted claims of the Patents-in-Suit are directed to eligible subject matter.

23. The foregoing facts also establish that the asserted claims are directed to more than the application of an abstract idea using well-understood, routine, or conventional activities. This is reflected, for example, by the fact that the related '510 patent was allowed based on the recitation of a technological capability lacking in the prior art.

See Exhibit 6 (referencing these materials to demonstrate how Defendant induces end users to commit patent infringement).
